

Principle Dance Studio October 2009 Newsletter

Happy Halloween!

Principle Dance will be open on Saturday, October 31st. Students are welcome to wear costumes to class.

Aster Brio and Lucky Plush Connect

This season, Aster Brio Dance Company has the privilege of working with Julia Rhoads, Artistic Director of Lucky Plush Productions. She will be setting a piece on some of our young dancers for Aster Brio's December 6th community concert. Ms. Rhoads has created 25 original works which have been performed all over the U.S. and has received numerous awards and recognition for her artistic work in dance.

Please support the professional dance world by attending Lucky Plush Productions' upcoming performance "Punk Yankees" at Columbia College Dance Center. Shows will take place October 22, 23, 29, 30 and 31. For more information about this performance and Julia Rhoads—please visit www.luckyplush.com. Principle Dance congratulates Lucky Plush on its 10 year anniversary of bringing innovative dance to Chicago!

Tuition Due

The second Installment is due by or before Monday, October 19th. A $15.00 Late Fee will be applied to all installments paid after the scheduled due date. Please contact our office staff at the service desk if you have any questions concerning payment.

Principle Dance invites you to join us for the first of our In-Studio Observation Dates, October 12th-17th. Family and Friends are welcome to attend.

Nutcracker Information

Students in Pre-Ballet 2 through Ballet 4 will have the opportunity to perform Nutcracker excerpts during Aster Brio's December 6th community concert.

Detailed information will be distributed this month.

Students interested in performing will have Dress Rehearsal Saturday, December 5th at Riverside Township Hall.

Tired of writing checks?

Avoid late fees by filling out an automatic credit card payment form at the service desk to have your tuition installments for the 2009-2010 Class Season automatically charged to your Visa, Discover, or MasterCard.
